HOOVER SPEECH AWAITED TODAY BY REPUBLICANS

UPRISING PUT DOWN IN SPAIN

Government Captures Rebel Leader, Smashing Monarchist Rebellion.

CHIEF AIDS ALSO CAUGHT

Revolt Crumbles in Face of Powerful Republican Military Machine.

By The Associated Press

MADRID, Aug. 11—Spain's 24-hour monarchist rebellion was smashed by the government today with the arrest at Huelva of its fleeing leader, General Jose San Jurjo.

The general fled from Seville, after his revolutionary machine, which captured the government of the important southern city yesterday, had crumbled in front of powerful concentrations of government troops.

Civil Governor Cualio Solsona of Huelva reported a few hours later that San Jurgo was under arrest at the executive palace there. He said he was taken as he was about to enter the city. Three of his chief officers were arrested with him.

Ordered to Madrid

The governor telephoned the government here of the capture, and Minister of Interior Casares ordered the four officers brought to Madrid immediately.

The veteran monarchist leader gave up his fight at Seville reports said, when his efforts to rally support outside the city failed. The emissaries he sent to nearby towns were reported to have been thrown into jail. The effect upon the rebels was demoralization, added to by the early collapse of the revolutionary movement in Madrid.

During the night dozens of army officers who followed San Jurgo disguised themselves in civilian clothes and began to steal out of the city.

After the white flag was run up on the government buildings a rebel delegation approached government officials declaring they had been misled by San Jurgo and wished to surrender.

No Hasty Executions

The government indicated, however, there would be no hasty lopping of heads. Admiral Azana, the premier, emphatically denied reports that the ringleaders would be executed summarily.

The nation, however, was under

GERMANY OBSERVES REPUBLIC'S BIRTHDAY

Hitler in Background as Nation Honors 13th Anniversary.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Aug. 11—Adolf Hitler's advance toward the German chancellorship slipped momentarily into the background today as Germany celebrated the thirteenth birthday of the republic.

It was perhaps the strangest celebration of "constitution day" in all these 13 years, for outdoor political meetings were forbidden and Republican groups, holding their anniversary exercises under the guise of party assemblies, huddled indoors, forbidden to rejoice openly at the founding of the republic.

The outward form of custom was observed in the reichstag where Baron Von Gayl, minister of the interior, was orator of the day, and President Von Hindenburg, tanned and healthy after a vacation in the country, was cheered as he entered the presidential box.

Baron Von Gayl's speech referred but briefly to the country's economic plight, asserted that the last 10 years has been a decade of personal ego, and expressed regret that the German people has split into two political camps. The constitution written at Weimar, he said, is but a foundation and in the course of revision should be amended to include a change in the electoral laws to curb party domination.

The Socialists, ardent defenders of the republic, did not attend. Neither did the Communists. Adolf Hitler is away in the Bavarian Alps.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 11—Opposing a defense motion for a bill of particulars, County Prosecutor P. L. A. Leighley charged yesterday that former Chief Deputy Treasurer Alex Bernstein gave $277,273 in cut of the county treasury and that Maurice Maskin, Republican leader, and four others got the money. The six men were indicted recently on charges of misuse and misuse embezzlement of money missing from the treasury. The defense motion was filed under advisement by Judge Frederick P. Walker.

Notification Ceremonies To Begin in Washington at 8:30 Tonight.

LEADERS ASSEMBLE

Major Portion of Program To Be Given Over to President's Address.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Republican hosts rallied around President Hoover today to heed his call to arms for the 1932 campaign.

The vexing prohibition problem and moves, past and contemplated, to meet the economic situation form the substance of the keynote address Mr. Hoover will deliver tonight in formally opening his drive for another four years in office.

Republican leaders from coast to coast are assembled here for the traditional notification ceremony to be held tonight in Constitution hall.

Luncheon on Lawn

A buffet luncheon on the south lawn of the White House to the Republican guests and presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Hoover was the start of the day's program. Tonight at about 9:15 o'clock (Marion time) the President will begin his address expected to reach a record audience. It will be broadcast by two nation-wide chains and Republican meetings have been called throughout the nation to listen.

It is the first Presidential notification to be held here since Calvin Coolidge delivered his acceptance address eight years ago.

It is an almost new Republican leadership which launches Mr. Hoover on his campaign tonight from that which fought the fight for Coolidge in 1924 and Hoover in 1928.

Everett Sanders of Indiana, as chairman of the Republican national committee, presides over the session. Representative Snell of New York, as permanent chairman of the Republican convention which nominated Mr. Hoover in June, delivers the brief message of notification.

On the platform and in the audience will be the other chieftains of 1932 Republicans, including the Hoover cabinet and members of the national committee.

Mrs. "T. R." To Attend

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the late President and Republican leader of two decades ago, will occupy a box with Mrs Hoover.

The ceremony will be given almost entirely to the presidential address sounding the keynote of the quadrennial party election campaign. The Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington, will deliver the invocation. Dr. Coleman J. Nevils, president of Georgetown university, will pronounce the benediction. The Marine band will provide music.

Here's Program for Ceremony

OCCUPANTS OF FARM HOME ESCAPE BLAZE

Mr. and Mrs. William Newton Endangered as Fire Destroys Home.

Special to The Star

LA RUE, Aug. 11—Mr. and Mrs. William Newton of the same community here barely escaped from their farm home, early this morning when it was destroyed by fire.

They awakened to find their room filled with smoke, and the remainder of the seven-room home enveloped in flames. They were barely overcome by the smoke as they escaped from the house.

A defective flue is believed to have caused the fire. The Newtons spent yesterday in moving, using a wind pump. No other buildings on the farm were damaged. The loss was estimated at about $3,000. The house was insured for $1,000.

LA RUE BANK HELD UP

City Seeks $100,000 for 1933 Poor Relief

Total Budget Request Higher Than This Year Despite Departmental Slashes; $75,000 More Sought for Aid of Needy.

Asking $100,000 to carry on relief work in 1933, the city's annual budget was being given its final touches before being submitted to the county budget commission the latter part of this month.

The request for relief work funds is the largest amount ever asked for this purpose in the history of the city and represents an increase of $75,000 over the amount asked for this year. It is the largest single item in the budget.

The budget is now being given a final check by City Solicitor Carter Patton before being placed in the office of City Auditor J. L. Landes where it will be available for inspection of residents before being passed on by city council.

Total Shows Increase

In spite of slashes in many departments and the elimination entirely of the appropriation for street cleaning, the total amount the city will ask for, including that for the retirement of general bonds, will be $546,954.54 or $32,937.10 greater than this year when the total sought was $514,017.44.

Of the total, $392,250 will be for operating expenses of the city while the remainder will be for the retirement of bonds. The city this year asked for $333,581 for operating expenses and $178,426.44 for the retirement of bonds.

Although the amount asked for for operating expenses for 1933 is more than $56,000 greater than this year, it is pointed out by city officials that it includes an increase of $75,000 for poor relief and in addition includes appropriations to take care of between $60,000 and $70,000 worth of bills carried over.

An increase in the amount asked for for water rentals from $39,969 this year to $55,000 for next year is pointed out by officials as an example of extra appropriations being asked for to pay old bills.

Expect Cut in Earnings

The city also anticipates a reduction in the earnings of the various departments in 1933. The anticipated receipts from the garbage collection department is

PAL TELLS OF SUICIDE TALK

Clarke Discussed Taking Own Life, Former Companion Testifies.

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 11—Testimony that Haden Clarke, for whose slaying Captain W. N. Lancaster, is on trial, was a narcotic addict, that he frequently discussed suicide and that he suffered in New Orleans from an illness with which he was afflicted at the time of his death, was given today by Dick Lavender, former companion of Clarke.

"He frequently discussed suicide with me," Lavender testified. He said they had been drinking companions in New Orleans, where Clarke was employed by a newspaper.

"Clarke thought I planned to commit suicide, and told me the way to go about it to do it in a big way. He said a pistol was the best method," Lavender said.

The description of Clarke's habits followed completion, for the time at any rate, of examination of Captain Lancaster, and injection into the case of the attitude of Seabury in his analysis.

Second—The charges contained in Schleffelin's petition.

Third—Those in Finnegan's petition.

Roosevelt said an opportunity would be given to both Walker and his accusers to submit to him lists of witnesses they wished to call, and that "we can cross-examine," he would call the witnesses.

A few raised differences of opinion between Governor Roosevelt and John J. Curtin, chief counsel for Mayor Walker, developed soon after the hearing opened. Roosevelt twice checked Curtin during his opening statement, cautioning him to confine his remarks to the evidence against Walker.

Curtin took issue with Roosevelt's contention that allegations in bills of the mayor's first term were within his jurisdiction.

Curtin, after stating he expected that play in the hearing, began to review Walker's political career.

The testimony before the Seabury legislative committee has "no more legal standing than the story of Robinson Crusoe or Grimm's Fairy Tales," Curtin charged.

Curtin continued shortly to point out

GOVERNOR HEARING WALKER CASE TODAY

Fate of Jimmie Walker Hangs in Balance; Roosevelt Sits as Judge.

By The Associated Press

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 11—The public hearing of charges of official misconduct upon which the removal of Mayor James J. Walker of New York is demanded opened at 12:27 p. m. (Marion time) today before Governor Roosevelt. Only a few spectators, largely state officials and employes, gained admission to the red draped "Hall of the Governors."

Governor Roosevelt read a statement quoting the state law by which the governor may remove public officers, including mayors, and a section of the city charter whereby the governor may remove the mayor of New York.

Outlines Charges

He then began to outline the case against Mayor Walker, citing of the Hofstadter committee and Seabury's report on the hearings the petitions of William Jay Schieffelin and James E. Finnegan of New York asking Walker's removal.

He said the contention that a governor could not remove an officer for acts done prior to his taking office.

"I do not agree with that contention" the governor said.

He said he would consider charges involving the mayor during his first term of office.

"RIDE" VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED BY BROTHER

V. A. Bonomo of Dayton Claims Body of Man Slain Near Agosta.

CAN OFFER NO MOTIVE

Officials Continue Efforts To Unearth Clue in Supposed Gang Murder.

V. A. Bonomo of Dayton last night positively identified the body of a man found lying in a ditch eight miles west of here on the Agosta-Meeker road Wednesday morning as his brother, Michael Bonomo 36, of Cleveland.

After conferring with officials the brother this morning completed arrangements to have the body removed to Cleveland where the victim had been living with his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Rozzi.

Continue Investigation

Authorities continued their investigation of the murder today following a conference with Bonomo's brother, who was unable to offer any substantial clue toward the solution of the crime.

The brother viewed Bonomo's body at the Axe & Eccles funeral home on East Church street last night after driving here from Dayton with friends. He confirmed earlier information that the victim had finished a 10-year penitentiary sentence three months ago. Bonomo was sentenced from Canton for a grocery holdup there, the brother said.

Since his release from the penitentiary last May 11 on parole, Bonomo spent most of his time with his brother in Dayton, the brother said. On July 11 he went to Cleveland to live with his niece, who has since made Cleveland his home.

Parents in Italy

Besides his brother in Dayton Bonomo leaves another brother, Frank, residing in Cincinnati, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Bonomo of Conversono, province of Bari, Italy.

Funeral arrangements were to be completed in Cleveland today after the body had been removed to the niece's home.

BRICKER MUST FINISH WORK

Governor Refuses To Accept Resignation of Commission Member.

WHITE CITES REASONS

Points to Importance of Two Cases Now Before State Utility Board.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 11—Governor George White today refused to accept the resignation of John W. Bricker, as a member of the state utilities commission until such time as Bricker clears his desk of important cases now pending before the commission.

The governor in a letter to Bricker advised him that "while I recognize your right to aspire to the office which you seek, it seems to me, however, that the great importance of these cases, (the Ohio Bell Telephone company and Columbus Gas and Fuel company rate cases) which you propose to leave unfinished, constitutes a paramount claim on your time as well as upon that of all those in public positions."

White Reverses Himself

Bricker, Republican nominee for attorney general, sent his resignation to the governor earlier in the week. He stated that he did not believe he should occupy a place on the commission while he was campaigning for the office of attorney general.

Governor White said his refusal to accept the resignation was a second thought. At first, he said, he considered accepting it, but later decided that Bricker and other members of the commission could clear their desks of these important cases "within 10 days. This should not work any hardship on Bricker's campaign, the governor said.

Governor White's refusal to accept Bricker's resignation is believed to have been one of the first times a chief executive has declined to accept the request of a state employe that he be relieved of his duties.

Governor White's letter said in part:

"There are [illegible] before your body for [illegible] and which [illegible] of supreme importance to the [illegible] and [illegible] number of [illegible] affected and of [illegible]

POSSE CHASES THREE BANDITS IN AUTOMOBILE

Loot Reported To Be Less Than $1,000; Money Taken from Drawers.

MACHINE DRIVES SOUTH

One of Trio Threatens O. C. Boblenz, Cashier, Alone in Building.

The LaRue Bank Co was robbed of slightly less than $1,000 shortly after noon today by two armed bandits who escaped in an automobile with an accomplice.

O. C. Boblenz, 36, cashier, said that the first bandit entered the bank, drew a gun and ordered him to "stick 'em up and take it easy." The bandit walked through an unlocked door in the partition of the room, and ordered Boblenz, who was alone in the bank, to lie on the floor, face down, Boblenz said.

A second bandit then entered and guarded Boblenz while the first man took the money from the till. The first bandit then asked Boblenz where the "rest of the money" was, but Boblenz did not give the information. The bandits then placed Boblenz in the vault and closed the door.

Boblenz was able to open the vault door and free himself instantly.

He said that both bandits inside the bank wore overalls, and that the first to enter appeared to be about 35 years old. He did not see the face of the second, nor catch any sight of the third one, waiting in the car.

When the bandits left the bank, Boblenz seized a gun and he and F. J. Knapp gave chase. The bandits escaped to the south on route 37 in a Plymouth sedan bearing Indiana license plates. Boblenz and Knapp did not catch sight of the bandit car at any time during the chase.

Boblenz called for help as the bandit started to leave the bank. George Long, standing nearby, started to the bank in response to the call about the time the bandit left the bank and entered the car. Long, however, could not give a close description of the man, but believed he weighed approximately 175 pounds.

Authorities were notified and a description of the automobile was forwarded to officers in nearby cities. The car was of light blue color, and had yellow wire wheels.

It was the first holdup in the 30 years of the bank's existence.

The last of a series of bank holdups in Marion county and vicinity occurred last March 28, when three bandits robbed the Prospect Citizens' bank of more than $9,000 after an exchange of shots. Previous holdups were staged at Morral, Caledonia, Richwood, Green Camp and Prospect.

Sheriff Charles C. Fye, Deputies M. E. Baldwin and Chester Cosgrove, Police Chief William E. Martin and Patrolman Harry Smith went to the bank immediately after the holdup and assisted in a search for the bandits.

CORN PRICES IN EARLY RISE

Wheat, However, Slips Downward in Early Dealings at Chicago.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 11—Wheat went downward in price and corn up in active early dealings today. The United States government crop report was chief immediate factor, indicating 1932 domestic wheat production larger than expected and corn less. Opening unchanged to ¼ off, wheat later declined all around. Corn started at ⅝@1¼ advance, and subsequently reacted.

Emphasizing the bearish aspects of the United States government wheat crop report was the fact that the Canadian official report pointed also to a wheat yield greater than the trade had looked for. Under such circumstances, surprise over sharp curtailment of corn production estimates failed to act as a counter-balance, so far as wheat was concerned. Russian advices of meager harvest results were also virtually without influence in the wheat pit here.

Persistent commission house selling of wheat soon carried prices for that grain down about two cents a bushel with corn falling back to below yesterday's finish. Much of the selling of wheat came from eastern sources, and appeared to be profit-taking. Reactions in the stock market were an incentive to sellers both of wheat and corn, and there was talk that wheat price advances of late had been too rapid. Aggressive support for corn and oats was lacking after bulges in corn at the start.

In provisions, lard shorts covered at advances, and were supplied by packers.

Several hundred party leaders from surrounding counties heard the candidates make short speeches at a banquet later in the evening, and voted confidence of a Republican victory in November.

The tour of the state is being made to formulate campaign plans and to organize the party's workers. The candidates will visit Portsmouth and Columbus tomorrow.

Constance Bennett does another type of girl in "What Price Hollywood" the picture that will show Friday and Saturday at the Palace.

CONSTANCE BENNETT

She's a movie-struck American girl in search of fame on the screen, instead of the bored, sophisticated young woman of all her recent pictures.

Lowell Sherman, in real life both an actor and a director, plays the role of a great director in this picture, which is considered the finest of any that Hollywood has turned out poking fun at its stars and its "great" directors.

Neil Hamilton, who used to be the collar advertisement model, and Gregory Ratoff have important roles. Ratoff is the husband of Eugenie Leontovich, the original "Grushinskaya" of the stage play, "Grand Hotel."

The picture was directed by George Cukor from an original story by Adela Rogers St. John.

LANDIS TO PROBE GAMBLING CHARGES

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 — A special dispatch to the Chicago Daily News from Pittsburgh said that Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis, had opened a sweeping investigation of charges that several members of the Chicago Cubs, including Pitcher Guy Bush, had been gambling on the horses during the managerial regime of Rogers Hornsby.

Commissioner Landis, the dispatch said, went to Pittsburgh today to open the inquiry as the Cubs arrived for their first place battle with the Pirates. He refused to discuss the investigation, the dispatch added, but told reporters to "draw your own conclusions."

GET RID OF INDIGESTION IN A FEW MINUTES, OR

Get Your Money Back

"Bi-carb" and milk of magnesia only make your indigestion worse in most cases, for they weaken the digestive acid in your stomach, so it cannot digest your food properly.

Pepto-Bismol does not upset your stomach. It relieves indigestion gently in a few minutes by stopping the souring of food in your stomach and the decay of food in your bowels. The medicines in Pepto-Bismol which stop souring and decay, are four of the finest medicines known to physicians. Read them on the bottle.

Also, Pepto-Bismol is not a patent medicine. It is a prescription by The Norwich Pharmacal Company, whose Unguentine and other fine medicines have held the respect of physicians, surgeons, hospitals, nurses and druggists for nearly 60 years.

If Pepto-Bismol does not get rid of your indigestion, distress after eating, heartburn and sour, acid stomach, in a few minutes, get your money back from your druggist. Delicious Pepto-Bismol is harmless. Price 50c.

But don't be absent-minded and merely say your druggist for "something for indigestion". Ask him for Pepto-Bismol by name. Look for the name Pepto-Bismol on the bottle. Refuse the unfair offer of "something just as good" which may hinder, instead of help your digestion. Ask for Pepto-Bismol by name and get what you ask for.

Huge Boys' Band of 300 To Play at State Fair

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O, Aug 11 Guess what Charles M Beer Ohio state fair manager would get if he took a complete symphonic band and multiplied it by four

Give up? So did everybody else Beer asked today

Well he triumphed he'd get—or at least he said he'd get—the 300-piece boys band which will thrill the customers and make the horses prance at Ohio's greatest of all state fairs here Aug. 29 to Sept 3.

Imagine 16 flutes and piccolos 8 oboes 90 clarinets 28 saxophones 12 bassoons 48 trumpets 25 French horns 12 baritones 25 trombones 27 basses and 12 percussion instruments—all in one band

It takes Beer's imagination too he said but arrangements already have been made to bring the boys recruited from all parts of the state here for the fair

The fair manager thinks you ought to be able to hear this band all the way from here to Gallipolis and back But he isn't taking chances So to make sure he's arranging broadcasts

So on three afternoons the week before the fair the band's music will be radiocast over WAIU and then stations from the state east and west

Louis E. Peters will have five assistants in directing the band and Beer will help them enforce rigid discipline over the youthful musicians

Everything has been arranged to make the visitors stay a pleasant one They'll live in floored tents and nurses and health department inspectors will help them keep their camp sanitary

The tents will be enclosed by an eight foot wire mesh fence and an officer will be on guard constantly at the main gate of the enclosure

Special uniforms will be issued to the group and are to be cleaned twice in the week the bandsmen are here

DOMESTIC TROUBLES TAKEN INTO COURT

Wife Asks Order Restraining Husband from Molesting Her.

Domestic difficulties of two Marion families were placed before the common pleas court yesterday, one woman seeking a court order restraining her husband from molesting her, and a husband seeking a divorce decree.

Mrs. Margaret Cleveland was given a temporary order restraining Richard Cleveland from disturbing her in any manner or from doing her harm. She sought the order in a petition that charged Cleveland with threatening to injure her and to disturb her possession of their children and household goods. He left their home this month she charges. J. H. Eymon is counsel for Mrs. Cleveland.

Charles Galati filed suit for a divorce from Rosa Galati on the ground of gross neglect of duty. She permitted their children to go to school dirty and without sufficient food, and "shoved them out into the world for some person else to care for and keep clean," he asserts. Neighbors would come in and clean up the children, he said. Custody of the children and clear title to his property are also sought by Galati, who is represented by the law firm of Carhart, Warner & Carhart.

Answer Filed

I. J. Fulton, state superintendent of banks in charge of liquidating assets of the Marion Savings bank, filed an answer and cross petition in common pleas court yesterday in the foreclosure action of the Marion Building, Savings & Loan Co. against Alice F. McNeal and others seeking judgment against the defendant for $8,254.82 on a mortgage loan. The law firm of Carhart, Warner & Carhart represents Fulton.

Files Cross Petition

Hetty Alexander has filed an answer and cross petition in common pleas court in the foreclosure action brought against her and others by the Prudential Life Insurance Co., seeking judgment against Charles M. Bowen for $8,-183.34 on a mortgage loan. The law firm of Donithen & Donithen represents the answering defendant.

Issued License

Had Eczema on Scalp, Face and Neck. Healed by Cuticura.

"My son had eczema on his scalp, face and neck, and we had to keep a cap on his head all the time. It seemed to be in the form of dry pimples, but became wet and started to spread. We had to cut his hair away in places, it was so bad. He was rather cross and fretful, and lost sleep on account of the irritation.

"We began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and he was completely healed after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Wm. Gahl, 2806 Monroe St., S. Omaha, Neb., Jan. 22, 1932.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't stay grouchy and let your constipation, sick headache, acid stomach and coated tongue make you miserable. Don't dose with salts, mineral waters or purgatives that only move the bowels and make you sick and weaken you.

For they don't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. You need something that will start the bile flowing in your liver. It should flow out into the bowels and digest the food in your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food don't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, foul tongue and your breath is foul. Your whole system is poisoned.

Take Olive Tablets, all CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel like a new person. Harmless, gentle, vegetable pills. Insist on Carter's. Refuse substitutes. 25c at all druggists.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Sleeping & Waking Mask Co.

My Beauty Hint

BY MARIAN HARSH

A YARD of mailne 18 inches wide and a tiny soft brush only half an inch long are among the beauty aids on my dressing table.

When one must change gowns several times a day either for social affairs or for pictures keeping one's hair smooth and unruffled is a problem.

I tie the mailne tightly about my head while changing my dress. Then I remove the cloth and my hair is still well dressed.

The brush? Thats for the eyebrows. They too must be perfectly smooth. If they are not one may appear unkempt.

Hemorrhoids Go Quick

All Pile Misery Ended Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands who have itching bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby the bowel walls weak—the parts at fault dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation drive out the thick impure blood heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr J S Leonhardt after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM ROID and prescribed it for 1000 patients with success in over 900 cases and then decided every Pile sufferer no matter how stubborn their case might be this prescription with a money back guarantee.

HEM ROID tablets have such a wonderful record of success in this city that Hunter & Cooper and all good druggists invite you to try HEM ROID with guarantee of money refunded if it does not end your Pile misery.—Adv.

HOME RULE BACKERS TO CONTINUE FIGHT

Plan Fails To Reach November Ballot, Petition Needing 22,000 Signers

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug 11 Sponsors of the county home rule amendment to the state constitution will continue their campaign with a view to submitting their plan to the voters in November 1933

This was announced following failure to obtain the required 190,000 signatures to petitions that would have placed the amendment on the ballot this year The petitions lacked 22,000 signers when the time for filing initiated constitutional amendments with the secretary of state expired yesterday

Failure of the home rule move ment together with abandonment of plans to submit a state prohibition repealer leaves only one initiated proposal for the voters to consider next November It puts up to the electors the question of whether the legislature shall authorize the holding of a state convention to consider constitutional amendments.

The home-rule amendment would have permitted the counties to adopt charters supplanting the present form of government by elective officers or to consolidate city and county governments where they overlap Proponents of the plan said it would result in simplification and economy

China's government was at a standstill In political circles it was indicated that leaders were urgently attempting to solve the crisis resulting from the resignation of Wang Ching Wei president of the executive Yuan and Nanking cabinet

Without warning Wang Ching Wei quit last Saturday He gave as his reason the maladministration of affairs in north China coupling with it a withering attack upon Chang Hsueh Liang erstwhile Manchurian chieftain now directing affairs about Peiping supposedly under Nanking's direction.

Silent Partner.

Speculation on the things Mr. Coolidge will or will not do is invited by his enigmatic silence. It is, therefore, entirely natural that people are asking whether he will desert his role as a silent partner of the Republican party for one or activity during the presidential campaign.

The chairman of the national committee is confident that help will be forthcoming from that direction, though he wisely refrains from making definite promises. Mr. Coolidge has a way of being a law unto himself when making decisions on such matters.

His presence in the background during the trying years of the Hoover administration has been a tangible comfort. He has continued, for the most part, his established policy of word-saving, but on several occasions has committed himself definitely in support of questioned Hoover policies. More important than his speech, however, has been his silence—interpreted by his admirers as approbation.

A living former president might easily become, as some have in the past, an unmitigated political nuisance. With his customary caution, Mr. Coolidge has avoided circumspectly any appearance of trying to keep his hand in political affairs. His retirement has been as complete as it is possible for any man so well known to make.

One speech from him in behalf of President Hoover's campaign for reelection would be equivalent of five by any active politician, because of the belief that he has the advantage of a detached viewpoint. Republican campaign managers can not be blamed for hoping that the silent partner of Republicanism will have something to say before November that will be favorable to them.

On Experts.

Helen Keller is no expert on economics. If she did not do it so extraordinarily well, her article on the economic expert type in the August Atlantic might seem to be inexcusable audacity. But in a quiet way she out-experts even the experts at the difficult job of seeing what is wrong. Without sight and hearing, but with an abundance of what it takes to think clearly, she has written one of the outstanding magazine articles of the month's output.

It is a story about labor-saving machinery and a man who was supposed to know all about it—a veritable captain of industry. Temporarily deprived of his command by the depressed condition of the times, his interest turned to his household, presided over by his capable wife. When she could tolerate the logical extension of that interest—suggestions and criticisms—no longer, she allowed him to leap at the chance to show her and all other skeptics what big business efficiency can do in a kitchen.

This is, of course, a common ambition of the superior male, but uncommonly realized. Miss Keller's acute perception of the probable results strikes deep. Starting with the new house boss's delight over the material in his home factory and ending with deadly gentleness on his total misconception of the real advantage in labor saving machinery in the housewifely occupation, she makes what hard times have threatened to do out of the efficiency-mad big business man with a production complex—an economic monkey.

Turned loose in the kitchen he baked 10 cakes to get maximum efficiency out of the oven. He launched into a policy of capacity production of prepared food and tempted the children to eat it by dangling cash rebates before their greedy eyes. He was startled when trouble resulted and the doctor came and was angry when his wife advised him to enter the medical fee under production costs. It worried him to do everything that could be done to advantage and have time to spare; he wanted to keep the efficient machinery of the household humming at least eight hours a day. Labor saving? Maximum production was the thing! Labor savers were merely the means to that end

Big Figures on the Right Side.

People are learning to fight shy of big figures. They have come to be the sign of more bad news about the national deficit, the war debts, the decrease in investments or taxes.

But there is at least one big figure that may be approached without fear. On the contrary, it is productive of no inconsiderable amount of confidence. It is the three and one-half billions of dollars paid to life insurance policy holders and beneficiaries during 1931 in the United States and Canada.

Insurance salesmen—and there must be five for every prospect in the United States—are attacking their subjects these days with well-thumbed copies of the life insurance edition of the National Underwriter. In it are tables of insurance distributions which explain themselves.

In their details and in the huge totals they make when added together they show how insurance has become a shock absorber for economic bumps. They show how its cushioning effect is spread evenly throughout the nation in ratio to the need of individual communities for protection.

Policy holders, as is commonly known, have drawn freely on the borrowing provisions of their insurance during the depression; figures for 1932 will show a much larger sum than the 1931 total for this type of distribution, no doubt. From 1926 to 1931, payments on premium savings and cash surrender values increased 66 per cent, showing the investment trend of insurance.

The depression, by upsetting all kinds of investments, has increased the attraction of life insurance as a secure depositary for surplus capital. It does not dangle with the lure of profit, but points with pride to security and safety conditions which have come to be of great importance to the American people. It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of the three and one-half billions of dollars distributed among the people of this continent at a time when they needed it urgently. Lack of dependability is assuredly not one of the weaknesses of life insurance.

The Conference System.

Confidence already reposed in the power of a world economic conference to remove some of the more serious points of international conflict testifies to the firm establishment of the conference system. Strangely enough, it does not seem to matter greatly that the two most recent conferences—Geneva and Lausanne have left this nation in an irritable mood.

Another conference, the imperial economic conference at Ottawa, seem destined to have a similar effect on the national temper. Most assuredly, there is nothing in the prospect of higher trade barriers around the British empire to gladden the hearts of American manufacturers, even though they plan recourse to the popular device of establishing factories inside the barriers.

There remains, in spite of disappointment with failure of the Geneva conference to bring about effective disarmament and apprehension over the formation of a united front by this nation's European debtors at Lausanne, strong hope that a world economic conference might labor with better results. Senator Borah's prominent mention of such a conference in a recent speech was a true reflection of the national attitude.

It is significant that the senator's remarks were echoed within the last few days by Senator Berenger of France, who occupies a position in the French senate equivalent to that of Mr. Borah in the American senate—chairman of the foreign affairs committee. Predicted M. Berenger:

"There will probably be a single international conference in the autumn covering all problems. This conference will take place in Washington, home of the principal creditor. . . . Humanity must be relieved of its crushing burdens of debts and disentangled from the intricacies of tariffs in wholesale fashion. If to this be joined simultaneous diminution of armaments under effective collective control, notably for Germany and Italy, the trick will be turned, popular confidence will be restored to labor and capital and credit will come back to life."

The conference system, as it has worked before and will work in the case of a world economic conference, is the recourse of statesmen hard-pressed by popular will. Its use representa the ultimate effort of men at the heads of popular governments to serve their constituencies as they want to be served. Regardless of success or failure, delegates can return to their constituents saying that they have done their utmost; that blame, henceforth, must be placed on those of another nationality who blocked them.

The United States can not escape participation in a world economic conference. Beyond all doubt it will be approached on the possibility of a permanent revision of war debts, probably before voting takes place in November. Unfortunately, it has no policy in this vital question, other than the fearful policy of an administration which dares not suggest to taxpayers and voters that they sacrifice their equity in the debts on a gamble that by so doing they will give international trade a new impetus. There must be straight thinking and honest assertion on this matter from men in high places before the United States will dare to face its debtors in the give-and-take atmosphere of an international conference.

Comment of the Press

"AND A LITTLE CHILD—"

It is a trifle unfair to allude to Mr. James Tunney as a little child except it be remembered that, the allusion is in connection with politics, and that Mr. Tunney is the personification of a type.

When this is kept in mind along with the proposed Democratic strategy to use young national idols and heroes in the impending campaign it becomes apparent that the Jeffersonian fellows expect little children to do considerable leading. Thus the drive of the Democrats for national political supremacy again departs from the traditional.

There is a refreshing quality in the thought of supplementing the ranks of "the old frock-coated spellbinders" with young gentlemen who have attained first rank in their particular fields. But the Democrats would do well to go slow in the matter of supplanting all those spell-binders. They may talk interminably and say nothing, but they are repositories of a world of political wisdom. They know when to talk, when to remain silent.

The young "idols and heroes" who take to the hustings for the Democrats will add a note of glamor to the campaign. They will compel attention—the qualities that led them to the top insure that. They will be heard. And therein may lie the danger. Inexperienced gentlemen frequently say some mighty peculiar things when making speeches.

Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings may come wisdom, which would be a welcome addition to any political campaign. But out of those same mouths may come some apparently innocent statement to spell disaster to the hopes of Mr. Roosevelt. Surely the Democratic managers haven't forgotten "Ruin, Romanism and Rebellion."

However, let the young men get in the campaign. Let all young men get in. It will be democracy's gain—and democracy needs to make some good gains right now.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE HOOVER-STIMSON DOCTRINE.

President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson deserve great credit for their peace leadership under the Chaco war threat. With a courage equalled by their wisdom they have rushed the other American governments in a united fight against a war between Bolivia and Paraguay.

They have requested that the controversy must be settled by peaceful means. But they have gone further. They have put force, the force of the community of Nations, on notice whose interests are involved in case war should defy their demand.

The force that could be more intelligent and more potent than the force of arms which would settle nothing and inflame the belligerents all the more.

Instead, they cried:

"The American republics declare that they will not recognize any territorial arrangement of this controversy which has not been obtained by peaceful means nor the validity of territorial acquisitions which may be obtained through occupation or conquest by force of arms."

This is the Hoover-Stimson doctrine laid down to Japan in the Manchurian affair. Now it becomes also a Latin American doctrine. When used by a group of the chief nations of the Western Hemisphere which has never known real force, it is a weapon against which no war lord can prevail.—Columbus Citizen.

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND.

Don't Neglect Harelip or Cleft Palate.

Harelip is a common deformity seen at birth, due to an incomplete joining of certain structures of the face. The deformity may occur on one side or both sides of the lips. It is never in the center of the lip, but usually just beneath the middle of one nostril.

Harelip may be complicated by a defect in the union of the palate. This cleft or fissure is the condition commonly spoken of as "cleft palate" and is not as common as harelip. It may involve only the soft palate, or it may extend into the hard palate, producing a wide gap in the roof of the mouth.

Many persons are under the impression that harelip or cleft palate is hereditary, but this is not true. The deformity results from some alteration in the normal development of the body before birth. This condition does not run in families, and there is no evidence that it is transmitted from mother to child. It is a purely structural disorder without hereditary influence.

Either harelip or cleft palate may seriously interfere with the nursing and consequently with the growth of the infant. Frequently the child is unable to take sufficient amounts of nourishment. And in these cases it is imperative that an operation to correct the deformity be performed as soon as possible.

For the healthy child that is taking nourishment well and has steadily gained in weight, the operation may be performed at any time after the second week. Whenever possible it is best to perform the operation after the baby has become well established in feeding and is definitely gaining.

Delay in deciding on an operation may prove very serious, for when nursing is difficult the child rapidly loses weight and becomes undernourished, and is susceptible to many infections.

In cases where the defect interferes with nursing, the mother's milk should be pumped and fed to the child with a spoon or medicine dropper until the operation can be performed. Bear in mind, too, that in many instances of cleft palate postponement makes the operation more difficult, because of the setting and hardening of the soft tissues and bones.

The operation is not serious and should not be feared. In the hands of a competent surgeon, the operation is successful and the results gratifying. Neglect or continued delay is far more serious than the operation.

Highlights of Ohio History

BY S. H. GALBRAITH

OHIOANS SAVE DAY.

In the Fifty-First congress, when disorder seemed to reign for a time, it was the cool headedness of two Ohio members that saved the day for orderly business.

Speaker Thomas B. Reed of Maine had directed the clerk to enter McCreary of Kentucky as present. "I deny your right to count me present," roared the Kentuckian. "The chair is merely stating a fact," coolly replied Reed. "Does the gentleman deny it?" One after another of the Democrats was thus entered as present, each such order being met with a roar of denunciation.

Reed was establishing thus his ruling that a quorum could be counted present though by not answering to their names, members had made the record show no quorum. A motion to appeal from the ruling was made. If that motion should carry, it would bring the ruling to a vote without debate. This fact made the speakers opponents wild with antagonism.

It was at this point that Ben Butterworth and McKinley of Ohio expressed an opinion that the matter should be debated upon and the speaker, influenced by the calmness of these majority party members nodded to the man who had made the motion to table. Democrats cheered—and the debate was on

New York Day by Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 11—The newest crop of college boys is taking it on the chin, gallantly. Until recently, they could step from their university into a fairly good job with little effort. Bond houses wanted them especially because of their cultural glows and general spruceness.

But today, all that is jig-saw detail in an elusive picture. To their credit, they have swallowed pride and taken menial jobs. I know three Yale and two Cornell graduates who are glorified office boys at $10 a week. They can not even secure posts as "runners" in Wall street.

There are many like instances of collegiates showing commendable, ah, er, viscera. A banking house let out 60 college men in one swoop. The majority had incomes and wanted to learn banking. They offered to return at a salary of $1 a year until more propitious times came.

Too, any number are working their way around the world. I receive letters from them as cabin boys, deck swabbers and what-not, on the Pacific and Atlantic. A group is also working in Rhodesia, South Africa, until clouds lift. Tahiti claims many.

Another gesture, crowning the excellent simplicities, is in the boys seeking employment in the smaller towns. In other years, big law firms in fair-sized cities angled for graduates "to grow up with the firm." But they were not very successful. The lads rushed to New York.

Many, falling so hard in the rut of depression, have caught life on the rebound. A husband, long jobless and broke, spent most of his anguished hours in a park, gazing at that incessant trickle, called the Hudson, and steeling himself for oblivion. His wife had but one possible cashable accomplishment. She could bake a cake. In a moment of mutual despair, she wondered if he could sell some to department stores for workers' lunches. Their bakery employs sixteen, and they have two motor delivery wagons. Also, they live on a grander scale than they ever imagined possible.

It is rumored that when certain senators get a peek at it, Miss Hooper will no longer "be livin' off the government."

The backwash of humor out of the slough of depression, has never been so marked as now. Daily Talk to Parents

BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE

A SUBMISSIVE CHILD.

A boy of nine showed certain signs of maladjustment. In school he was inattentive and lazy. At home his parents complained of his absent-mindedness and of his unwillingness to get up in the morning.

His playmates were all children much younger than himself.

"Big boys are always wanting to fight," he complained. "They always want their own way. I have to be extra nice to them all the time so they won't get mad at me."

Indeed, he was always very polite to any one who might possibly hit him or to any one who represented authority. Thus he was most careful never to offend his parents or a teacher and to be especially agreeable to policemen.

For some strange reason (his parents had never been especially severe with him) this boy had solved his conflict with authority by being completely submissive to it.

Directly dependent upon this submission was his indulgence in day dreaming, his preference for lying in bed and his unwillingness to work. Having made his own kind of peace with authority, he evidently felt that he had paid a price which should permit him to indulge in the most infantile sort of satisfactions.

This boy's cure consisted in his gaining some insight into the unnecessary degree of his submissiveness and in encouragement him to take a more aggressive attitude.

By the time he had reached a point where he would vigorously return a playmate's blow his other symptoms, too, had almost disappeared. With the encouragement of his original aggressiveness there appeared a sudden spurt of interest in physical exercise, a new alertness to what was going on about him and the ability to work dress in a grip that made her wince

Go and change that dress he said again

Then he put her gently aside and walked past her out of the room Sondra went slowly upstairs clinging to the balusters as she went trembling in every limb

If John had been drowned—the words seemed circling all about her refusing to be silenced If John had been drowned—if John had been drowned—

She changed her wet clothes mechanically and tidied her hair

The little window overlooked the sea and she shivered as her eyes fell upon it.

The sun had nearly disappeared below the horizon and the chill greyness of night was creeping up over the world

Downstairs she could hear Anderson whistling cheerily as he hunted about in the kitchen for the tea things

She smiled tremulously contrasting him with the man as she had known him in New York Even Cass would be amused if he could see him now in that old flannel coat and trousers

Presently she heard him calling to her Hurry up the kettle's boiling

She made no reply and presently he called again—

Sondra—

She went out onto the stairs Anderson was standing at the foot of them looking up

You've taken longer to change than I did he said

Yes She tried to smile but her lips were unsteady

She followed him into the little living room he had gathered some tea things together anyhow on a tray and filled the teapot

I'm afraid I haven't made much of a job of it he said ruefully

Sondra was standing close beside him but she said nothing and he turned to look at her face and his face changed

What's the matter my dear he asked very gently

She raised her eyes infinitely pathetic they were and angrily ashamed

Do you remember— she said slowly the other day you said—you said that would stayed away because—because you wanted me to find out If I—if it was—you I wanted—or—or some other man she waited a moment, but he said nothing and suddenly she hid her face in her hands Well it was you I wanted John she whispered desolately

Then a long silence followed broken only by the distant voices of some people approaching the cottage

Then Anderson said very quietly You don't mean that Sondra you must not mean it. You mustn't make it too difficult for me You see—my dear—

He broke off sharply turning his head towards the open door as some one on the threshold gave a little amazed laugh—

May we come in' We're simply worn out We've had a most frightful job to find you Sondra It was Beatrice Taylor

It was too late for Sondra to hide her tears she knew that Beatrice Taylor's sharp eyes had seen them seen also that she and John Anderson had been standing very near to one another

I hope we don't intrude— Beatrice said she looked at Anderson coyly I heard you were both down here so we thought we simply must find you If we had to walk a hundred miles And we're simply starving'

Sondra seized upon the opportunity to escape—

I'll make some fresh tea — it won't be a minute— she fled to the kitchen furious with herself more furious with Beatrice

To come so unexpectedly — almost as if she were spying'

Beatrice spoke behind her

Can I help? I've left the boys to talk to Mr Anderson You might have waited to be introduced Sondra

Sondra had hardly realized that Beatrice had not been alone she had hardly realized anything except the fact that she had been caught unawares at what was perhaps the most tragic moment of her life

Beatrice seated herself on the kitchen table and lit a cigaret

I do hope we haven't butted in at the wrong moment' she said Were you having a lovers quarrel darling"

How absurd—of course no

Beatrice laughed Well it looked like it she said frankly Poor Mr Anderson Well one can't say he hasn't been faithful to you

I don't know what you mean Sondra protested She had recovered herself now "He lent me this to take and he came down for the week-end He's staying up at the hotel

Darling you don't suppose I thought he was staying here do you' Beatrice asked And do tell me why on earth don't you marry him now he's free"

Perhaps because I don't want to and the kettle's boiling You'll find some more cups on the dresser

It was an immense relief to Sondra when Beatrice collected her boys as she called the two rather rapid youths she had brought with her and said good bye

I do hope we haven't butted in she said for the third time to Anderson as they parted at the gate

Anderson made some casual reply and went back to the cottage

Sondra followed him and for a moment there was unbroken silence then he said briskly Well I must be off It's getting late I won't have to have my clothes on

Sondra was aimlessly clearing up the tea things

When will you come down again' she asked

He hesitated I will let you know he said at last

She raised defiant eyes That means you don't intend to come any more I suppose

He looked at her gravely

Don't you think it will be better if I do not"

She broke out stormily Because you're afraid of the truth I suppose is that it' Well I'm not afraid I've made one muddle in my life by being afraid—by hiding things—one ghastly muddle but this time it's going to be different —this time I— she broke off and he asked quietly

What do you want me to do Sondra"

Her eyes fell I don't know she whispered

He laughed rather wearily Neither do I You're a married woman and your husband is on his way home believing that you will be glad to see him Sondra You married him of your own wish and will and I don't think either of us can do anything except say goodbye

I thought you loved me—"

You know I love you—

And yet you're content never to see me again

Not—content'

She laughed You don't seem to be very distressed about it any way—calmly telling me that we must say goodbye perhaps it's what you wanted—that I should be the one to suffer

Anderson moved crossing to where she stood and looked down at her with eyes that were rather pathetic

It's not for me to preach he said hoarsely I'm many miles from being perfect myself—but it seems brutally unfair Sondra that you should speak to me like this after after deceiving me as you have done Do you think I should ever have told you I loved you had I known about Merriman? I'm not fond of—of having my heart torn out and—and thrown at me

It was a mistake I've told you I don't know what made me do it

And so isn't it probable that this—this feeling you have for me may be a mistake too' that perhaps— when you see Merriman again you may be thankful that I — haven't taken you at your word now?

She turned her face away I wish I could believe that she said fiercely I'd give anything in the world to find after all that you weren't anything to me and he

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge is Under Espionage.

MARY'S request to go with me to the tea room was so natural so reasonable that for a second or two I could think of no excuse for refusing her One thing was clear to me however I could not permit her to accompany me on this errand which might hold an element of danger

I could not help remembering the threat of the Chinese who had appeared at the window of the Tiger farmhouse on the murderous onslaught of that other Oriental who though his hands and feet were bound had almost succeeded in braining me with his manacles

Of course I had no real proof that this man with the Chinese voice who had directed me to go to the mountain glen tea room and purchase a certain candlestick belonged to the band of miscreants who had so terrorized us at the farmhouse and who had mysteriously vanished following the advent of Lee Chow and Hugh Grantland Neither could I be certain that his direction to read and obey the paper which he said I would find beneath the candles had anything to do with the kidnaping of Marion and Carolyn

But I could have wagered everything I possessed that he was involved in the holding of the girls and given that premise any contact with him meant danger I seized upon the first excuse that came to me luckily a plausible one and answered Mary's appeal firmly

Sorry dearest but it is impossible to take you with me You must remain here so that if Aunt Lillian needs anything for Mrs Brixton you can be at hand

What's the matter with Spot as handy little messenger" Mary asked rebelliously as I glared at her The apparent rudeness was so unlike Mary whose pretty deference to older people is one of her chief charms

The wings on his feet are simply running to move Mary went on ignoring my disapproving silence and my lifted eyebrows and Ronald is in the same room with Aunt Lillian and his mother Mrs Brixton won't let anybody else come near her anywhere so why should I wear out my young life behind these hotel curtains when I might be consuming tea and waffles in the glen tea room"

I looked at her with puzzled eyes I knew how genuine was her terrified grief at Marion's plight This cheerful flippancy was like her gayer moods but alien to her solemn mien of the last few days What was behind this sudden change in her manner and speech?

I could spend no time in conjecture however Her demand for it was virtually that required an answer swift and decisive

If the problem of Mrs Brixton did not exist I could not take you, with me baby, Mary I said frigidly Please do not say anything more about it

Then there is something up Mary said as if to herself Then she ran to me and threw her arms impulsively around me

Please don't be angry at me Auntie Madge she said I didn't mean to be brash but— I've just got to be The Lord He knows I hate to tell you this—you'll be awful sore at me but what could I do when Uncle Dicky told me I mustn't let you go out of the hotel alone said it wasn't safe and that I was to go with you or follow you every time you went out of the hotel"

I found my fingers clenching into my palms in sudden uncontrollable anger

"How dared he" I thought That's about the words but found that I had only whispered them

"You'll have to blame more than Uncle Dicky Mary said coolly Both Aunt Lillian and Uncle Harry as well as your father and Major Grantland are partners in the plot It must be something that happened lately that got 'em up in the air I only got these orders a little while ago"

Something that happened lately With anger suddenly deflated I went back over the things which had recently happened sorting checking until I believed I had found the answer

If Dicky alone were concerned I should have believed with Anger that he did not trust my promise to stay at the hotel while the rescue expedition went on without me But the concern of the others must mean that they considered me to be in special danger of some sort

By the time I realized that I had thwarted them the Chinese who had murdered the farmhouse had threatened me especially Hugh and Jerry must have taken secret note of the episode of the Chinese walking past the window and looking At least they meant to guard me from any possible contact with any of the enemy who might be involved in the kidnaping

I looked at my wrist watch and gasped I've got to get to the hotel at once I had named 1 but no time to waste Mary I've changed my mind I'm not going with you Stay here as well as you can

Gasco Trips Excavator, 3-0; Assures Self Tie for Title

ASHBY, STRAUB TOP BENEFIT WRESTLING CARD NEXT MONDAY

GASSERS NEED ONLY ONE MORE VICTORY TO CINCH INDUS CROWN

Huber Beats C., D. & M., 7-2, in Only Other Game Played Wednesday.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

Only the Huber Manufacturing company stands between the Gasco club and the championship of the Industrial softball league. The Gasco club assures itself of nothing less than a tie for first place in the industrial standings by plastering a coat of whitewash on the Excavator Alloy company nine yesterday afternoon in the play off of a postponed game. The final score was 3-0.

The Marion Steam Shovel has a mathematical chance of deadlocking the Gassers for the crown but it appears unlikely the Gasco will be kept out of the championship. The Huber company racked up a 7-2 victory over the C., D. & M. in the only other game played yesterday.

The Excavator-Alloy put up a better game against the Gasco than the 3-0 score would indicate. Henry Gilmore and Eddie Mautz put on a twirling battle with the honors even as far as hits go. However, Mautz struck out 10 men while Gilmore whiffed none. Two errors did little to help the cause of Gilmore.

The Gasco scored the first marker in the second inning. Willie Baldauf going the entire trip around the sacks on what should have been a single. That run in itself would have been enough to beat the Excavator but two more were chased across in the sixth to make the final outcome more certain. The Excavator got only one man as far as second base.

Mutt Kellogg had the better of Hap Applegett as the Huber company scored the 6-2 victory over the Electricians. Kellogg whiffed eight batters to four for Applegett and allowed three hits to eight secured by the winners. Kellogg was wild, walking five men but the C., D. & M. batters could not hit when hits meant runs.

The Erie Mechanics forfeited their game to the Augenstein A. C. team, 9-0.

The Mt. Vernon Y-Indus club baseball team will meet the Marion Y-Indus team Saturday at 3 p. m. at Lincoln park here. Swartz and Gallant will form the battery for the Marion combine.

SARAZEN LOSES

Being Good Fellow Proves Costly to Star Golfer.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—Because he chose to be "one of the boys," Gene Sarazen's chances of scoring a grand slam in golf are very slim.

After winning the British and United States open titles, Sarazen was offered the opportunity of competing in the professional golf association's tournament at St. Paul, Aug. 30-Sept. 3, without playing in the qualifying rounds. He refused saying he wanted to take his chance just like the other boys.

Yesterday 14 metropolitan pros qualified and Sarazen was not one of the group. He finished in a seven way tie for the last three places, but lost out on the first hole when a par four was not good enough to beat a trio of birdie 3's.

There is a chance that Charles Lacey, assistant pro to Sarazen at Lakeville, will withdraw, leaving the place open for him.

NORTH CENTRAL OHIO BOXING TOURNEY TO START HERE TONIGHT

28 Fighters Clash in First Night Bouts at Open Air Arena.

With a total entry list of more than 50 fighters signed up to battle for the awards which will go to the eight winners of the tournament divisions, the first night's program of the North Central Ohio amateur boxing carnival will get under way tonight at the open air arena on Uncapher avenue. In case of rain the fights will be held at Steam Shovel gym. Twenty-eight almost pure glove slingers will don the shorts and padded mitts tonight and hammer each other through three rounds or less.

Some of the best amateur fighters in this section of the state will clamber through the ropes for a shot at the amateur fistic glory which comes from being termed champion of north central Ohio. The winners of the eight divisions will be given sweaters by H. A. Tarr, promoter of the fights.

Jimmy Canarty will act as third man in the ring for all the fights. The first bout, with Monty Blue and Vinty Leon, both Marion 122 pounders, will get under way at 8 p. m. The complete card for tonight.

Johnny Zajack of Mansfield, 117, vs. Dick Donahue of Marion, 119; Clyde Wilson of Marion, 118, vs. Paul Kapolo of Marion, 114; Johnny Merkel of Mansfield, 122, vs. Eddie Collins of Marion, 122. BABY CLINIC TO GET PROCEEDS OF WEEKLY TOE TWISTING SHOW

Wrestlers and Promoters Work for Nothing To Aid Meritorious Cause.

Unfortunate babies of Marion are to get a "break" through the medium of the weekly wrestling program here next Monday night. The entire proceeds of the Monday night toe-twisting program at the open air arena on Uncapher avenue will be turned over to the baby clinic at City hospital to aid in providing care and medical attention for babies of parents unable to afford the necessary attention. The only money to be deducted from the gross gate will be the expenses of the wrestlers to come here from Columbus. The wrestlers will not get one penny guarantee, only expense money.

The benefit wrestling program is being put on for the benefit of the City hospital clinic. The clinic is operated by a committee chosen from the Marion Academy of Medicine, Dental Society Volunteers, Federation of Women's clubs, City King's Daughters Union, and the Parent-Teachers council. The benefit is made possible through the courtesy of Harley Lewis and Paul Markert, promoters of the weekly wrestling shows here.

Ashby in Feature

The card for the benefit program will be another of those all-star affairs. Larry Straub, the up and coming young Columbus wrestler, will tackle Spike Ashby, the rough and tough Chicagoan in the feature battle of the show.

It will be remembered that Straub and Ashby met here some weeks ago in a two-out-of-three falls bout with a 45-minute limit. That tilt developed into a bitter mat engagement with Ashby taking the only fall of the contest.

The brilliant Chicagoan felled the young Columbusite with the vicious knuckle headlock, a more or less illegal hold which has since been barred by the local wrestling body and use of which will be barred in Monday night's battle here.

At the finish of the meeting between the two, Straub was much the fresher of the two and had the bout gone a few minutes more, Larry would undoubtedly have taken a fall from the canny veteran from the machine gun city.

In the semi-final of this card Dick Griffin the fast improving young local light heavyweight will meet Nick Bozinis the brilliant New Jersey light heavyweight, in a two-out-of-three falls tilt, carded for 45 minutes.

Griffin is fast improving and in the past six months has registered wins over some of the outstanding light heavies of this section.

His meeting here with the veteran Bozinis will undoubtedly be a gruelling test for the youngster but Dick feels that he is ready for bigger game and is asking for it.

Griffin Improved

"I don't believe fans of my home town appreciate just how much I have improved in the last half year. I'm not boasting but I have beaten men in the past six months with whom I wouldn't have had a chance a year ago and I want tougher opposition from now on. Maybe I won't defeat Bozinis here Monday night but only by meeting the tough men of the Bozinis type will I learn and improve and if I get the breaks I feel that I may defeat even Bozinis."

Another tilt on the program will send Cliff Kauffman, younger brother of Cleo Kauffman into action against the tough Swede Thompson of Texas in a one fall, 50-minute limit bout.

Kauffman, will be making his initial start in this section of the country but has been going great guns out in his native state of Iowa.

PLEASANT PITCHER ALLOWS NO HITS

Pleasant Trinity Lutheran Intermediate softball team scored a 5-0 victory yesterday afternoon over the File Memorial Baptists as Weiss, Pleasant pitcher, hurled a no hit, no-run game. Other scores in the league were: Northern Stars 9, Presbyterians 2; Calvary 9, Epworth 0 (forfeit).

MARATHON WINNER

A few yards more and international fame was his! Here is Juan Carlos Zabala, Buenos Aires newsboy, entering the Olympic Stadium in Los Angeles to finish and win the marathon. The 26-year-old Argentinian ran the 26 miles 385 yards in 2 hours 31 minutes and 36 seconds, a new world record for the classic.

NOT MY BROTHER

Wes Ferrell Says, As Self-Styled Kin Freeze Merchants.

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 11—The "long lost brother" of Wes Ferrell, star Cleveland baseball pitcher, was so thoroughly lost today that even the police department couldn't find him.

Ferrell's "brother," who said his name was Peter Ferrell, had induced several business men to cash checks for him on the strength of his purported relation to the ball player.

The checks on a North Carolina bank came back marked "no account." And Wes Ferrell advised police by telegram he has no brother named Peter.

CHOCOLATE WINNER OVER JOHNNY FARR

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 11—Another victory was marked up today on the record of Kid Chocolate, Cuba's junior lightweight champion.

"The Kid" coasted to an easy decision last night over Johnny Farr, game Italian of Cleveland, O., in a ten round non-title bout. Farr, who never has been kayoed, was knocked down three times, once for the count of seven. With both eyes cut and nose bleeding, he was fighting gamely at the final bell.

YANKS STILL SET OLYMPIC PACE

By The Associated Press

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 11—Italy's powerful eight-oared crew today loomed as the boatload for the United States to beat in the five-star feature of the Olympic regatta, after the fashion in which the blue-shirted, black-haired Latins shared the honors of the trials with the University of California's unbeaten aggregation.

The big cheers yesterday were reserved for California's own crew and it measured fully up to high expectations in winning the second and last heat of the trials.

Italy sprang the big surprise of the day by beating Cambridge by nearly two lengths. Canada was second to the United States' crew.

Italy not only upset a British crew that was one of the big favorites in the advance dope but turned in faster time for the 2000-meter straightaway than the Americans. The blue-shirts were clocked in 6 29 1-5 and California in 6, 29 flat for the distance, approximately one mile and a quarter. Neither time was especially impressive.

The United States and Italy thus qualified automatically for the finals of the eight-oared competition, to be held Saturday, while the six defeated boatloads were redrawn in two more heats for this afternoon, the winner of each to get a place in the decisive battle.

Red Lucas, Cincinnati pitcher, believes that Chick Hafey is one of the greatest hitters in baseball.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 11—Clarence Crabbe of America momentarily halted Japan's swimming invasion by defeating Jear Taris, France, by six inches in the 400-meter free style final yesterday.

His victory was a surprise. Japan, on the basis of its showing in preliminary heats, had been favored to win, what with three men in the finals. Instead, Crabbe and Taris staged such a brisk race the Nipponese had to be content with third, fourth and fifth.

Crabbe, who got most of his aquatic education on the Hawaiian islands, set a new Olympic record of 4 minutes, 48 4 seconds and bettered Arne Borg's record in his triumph, but while he was splashing to a win, the International Swimming Federation was accepting various and sundry world's records including Taris' time of 4 47 for he distance, taking this honor from the victor.

Crabbe's win gave for the United States the men's team lead with the total standing at 42 against 37 for Japan. The women's team lead was increased to 39 against 12 for Australia, when Uncle Sam's three feminine spring board diving experts swept the first three places.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 11—Remaining contestants in the international boxing campaign to determine Olympic champions, turned into the third day of competition today with rousing battles forecast.

Ten bouts this afternoon paired off eight rivals each in the flyweight and welterweight classes and four in the lightweight group. American standard-bearers were called into action in three engagements. Lou Salica of Brooklyn, 112-pounder, drew Werner Spangnagel of Germany. Nat Bor, Fall River, Mass., lightweight, was paired off with Thure Ahlqvist of Sweden. Eddie Flynn of New Orleans had Robert Easton of South Africa as his welterweight opponent.

Fights yesterday and last night saw American entries successful in three contests. John Miller of Detroit, light heavyweight, lost a decision to James J. Murphy, hurling policeman from Dublin, Ireland, but Johnny Hines, San Pedro youth, defeated Miguel Arango of Mexico in the featherweight class. Joe Lang of San Francisco advanced in the bantamweight division as a result of a default, and Bor outpointed Hyman Mizler, British 135-pounder.

The net result of 36 actual fights and one default up to today put the United States and Italy in a neck and neck race. Each had one losing fighter when last night's program concluded.

PITTSBURGH, CHICAGO OPEN CRUCIAL SERIES IN NEAR DEADLOCK

Bucs Hold Only Three-Point Margin Over Fast Stepping Cubs.

By The Associated Press

The early August road tours of the major leagues have ended with high honors for the New York Yankees, and few, if any for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Yanks came through their trip with only a half game margin from the margin they started out after winning ten out of 15 games. The Bucs, on the other hand, finished with a record of seven victories and 12 defeats. Today they faced the Chicago Cubs in a "crucial" series with a margin of only three percentage points.

While Chicago was kept idle by rain yesterday, Pittsburgh broke its ten game losing streak with a 5 to 2 victory over the Boston Braves in the first half of a double header and thus kept their hold on first place. They lost the second 3 to 2, home runs by Berger and Schulmerich, giving the Braves the decision.

Brooklyn took two games from the Cincinnati Reds, 6 to 1, and 10 to 9 in 13 innings, to make it 14 in 28 starts and to finish their climb from seventh place to fourth.
